

The Copper Queen Store.

SATISFACTORY TAILORING.

At no time since we started our Tailoring Department—a year and a half ago—have we been so able to satisfy in every respect men who are particular as to their clothes.

FIT—We are more particular about this than you have any idea. Sometimes we are not satisfied even when the customer is.

QUALITY—The very best of linings are used in every suit we turn out; the workmanship is identically the same in every detail. Any difference in the price is because of a difference in the quality of suiting used.

STYLE—Men who know say our line of suitings this season is the best we've shown. The popular hard twisted worsteds; the Scotchies in domestic and imported makes; the Homespuns, the black and white mixtures—all are here in single suit lengths.

Black and white mixtures still lead in popularity. They are varied now with a thread of a contrasting color—say red or green—forming a large over plaid. These large over plaids of a single thread or two are noticeable frequently in the line and are very stylish.

Our tailoring force now consists of 12 men, headed by a new cutter.

Getting a suit out by Easter is quite out of the question, but we can safely promise delivery orders within a few days after Easter. We don't like to hurry this work too much.

Prices for suits to order begin at $30 and from that to $45. Trousers from $9.00 to $15.00.

A LA CARTE

A French Restaurant phrase which, reduced to the queen's English, means:
"Pay for what you order."

THE NEW ENGLAND KITCHEN BILL OF FARE IS A LA CARTE!

If you only wish to eat a small amount you pay accordingly; you don't cost you $1 when you only eat 20 cents worth.

Remember our prices are no higher than other places, but there is a vast difference you favor in quantity, quality and good service.

FIFTEEN LIVES LOST

Two Bridges Swept Away and Sight-seers are Lost.

A MAD RUSH OF THE RISING STREAM.

Big Toll Bridges at Bangor, Maine, is Suddenly Swept Away Carrying Human Lives to Destruction--Some Escape

Bangor, Maine, March 21.—The big toll bridge at the main central bridge, between Bangor and Brewer, was carried away last night and it is reported that fifteen lives have been lost.

The accident was shocking.

The toll bridge was filled with people watching the water rise when a big log boom broke away above the city. Both bridges were swept away and many of the people were carried off. The warning came to many of them in time, however, and they escaped before the bridges went out.

GENERAL MILES

He Is Being Criticised For His Statements.

Made in the Course of His Testimony Before a Senate Committee, in Criticism of Various Officers.

Washington, March 21.—The news of General Miles' statement today before the military committee of the senate excited great interest at the war department, when it became known there late in the day.

There was a very general inquiry as to whether by passing criticisms upon various officials, as reported in the press, General Miles had not exposed himself to disciplinary treatment. An answer to this must be based on the exact amount of privilege which attaches to testimony given before a committee of congress.

This question arose last week in the course of General Hughes' testimony before the senate Philippine committee, when the general sought to escape answering questions which would involve criticism by him of his superior officer, General Otis. It appeared there was a variance of opinion in the committee itself as to how far General Hughes was at liberty to violate army rules and proprieties even in answering committee questions, and the question itself was left unsettled.

While General Miles did not expect when he gave his testimony that it would be made public in any form, he is now willing that it shall be published by the committee making himself the broad statement that the statements which were given to the press as those made by himself before the committee were misrepresentations and wholly unwarranted.

GEN. MILES TO BE RETIRED...

Orphan Child Bequeathed Six Million Dollars.

New York, March 21.—Frank Conger, a wealthy Brooklyn man, who died ten days ago in Detroit, has bequeathed $6,000,000 to a girl he took from the dead mother's arms in a railroad wreck a dozen years ago. The girl, is now 14, and the child's income will be $350,000 yearly. On March 6th, 1890, the Lake Shore train broke in two at Hamburg, and when the sections crashed together the day coach was smashed to splinters. Conger was on the train and assisted in the work of rescue. Lying in the wreckage was Mrs. E. E. Stewart, whose husband, a clergyman, lay dead beside her. From the woman's arms Conger took the waiting infant, and adopted it.

CELEBRATED CROOK CAPTURED.

Pittsburg, March 21.—Harry J. Anderson, one of the most desperate post-office robbers and safe crackers in the United States, was brought to the Allegheny county jail today from Johnstown, where he was arrested. For years he was an expert at the Hamilton Ohio Safe Works, and when discharged vowed never to do another honest day's work.

MAYOR MUIRHEAD

Talks Interestingly of the Future of Bisbee.

Will be a Candidate for Re-Election at the Ensuing City Election.

"The future of Bisbee and the kind of a city it becomes depends entirely upon the amount of water that is developed," said Mayor Muirhead to a Review reporter yesterday afternoon. "The policy of the city officials, who ever they may be, will be to give Bisbee as good government as any city in the territory. It makes no difference who is elected to fill the offices, they will always have the best interests of the city at heart."

"The biggest thing before the city in its infancy is to arrange for a sewerage system. This will come under the head of sanitary regulations. The extent of the system will depend upon how much water we have here in the future."

"The sanitary condition of Bisbee is going to be a serious problem to handle. Things will not be allowed to continue as they are now, and some radical changes may be looked for when the city gets properly started. Bisbee cannot afford to be behind other cities in this matter. It is one of the first things that must be attended to."

"Two plans have been proposed for providing a city hall. The first, and the one I think will be adopted, is to add another story to the fire station. The upper story could be used by all of the city officials. The other plan is to build the city hall two stories high and use the second as a city hall."

"The plan of the present city council is not to make any extensive preparations for carrying on public improvements. It would not be wise to take any definite steps when there is a chance of another council coming in with different ideas of how the work should be done. The best thing to do is to wait until a council gets in power that is going to hold it for some time."

"There is one thing certain, and that is Bisbee must have better water and much more of it. The Review says that a flowing well has been struck at Naco. If this be true, then the Copper Queen Company will pump it here, and Bisbee will have plenty of water. "Should everything else fail, and the city have to fall back on its present source, I would be strongly in favor of passing ordinances that will oblige the owners of the system to filter the water before turning it into the pipes for domestic use. This matter should be taken up as soon as it is determined that water cannot be obtained from any other source."

"It is true that I will be a candidate for the office of mayor at the coming election. I am willing to do my share in making Bisbee the kind of a city it deserves to be."

ANOTHER BULL RING.

Cervera is at Cananea Working Up the Project.

Cervera, the famous matador now giving a series of exhibitions in the plaza de toros at Naco, wants to build a large bull ring at Cananea. He is spending this week at that place trying to interest capital in the scheme.

In Cananea recently Cervera was asked by a reporter what were his intentions in the matter. Through an interpreter he said:

"I want to build a bull ring here that will seat about 4,000 people. It will be one of the best in this part of the country. If I can get some of the people here to help me with money to pay for the ring, I will begin work right away."

"The ring here would be run in connection with the one at Naco, and fights held on different Sundays. There are enough people in Cananea to make a bull ring pay lots of money to those who build it. The Mexicans always go to a bull fight and we could depend on a good crowd every time a fight was held."

"I have already talked with a number of people here, and they are all in favor of putting up a ring. In a few days I expect to have money enough to go ahead and start work. If everything goes as I expect the ring will be ready for exhibitions some time this summer."

DECISION REVERSED.

In the Case Entitled L. C. Shattuck vs. Martin Costello.

Word was received from Phoenix Thursday, stating that the Supreme Court had reversed the decision of the lower court in the case of Shattuck et al. vs. Costello, in which a decision had been rendered in favor of the defendant. By the action of the Supreme Court, the case will necessarily be brought up again before the district court at its next session in June.

This case involves the title to what is known as the Triangle mining claim, situated in this district, and adjoining the Uncle Sam and Woodchopper claims owned by the Copper Queen Company. The claim is a valuable one and is estimated to be worth in the neighborhood of $30,000. The claim was originally located by a man named Owens, who has since died. L. C. Shattuck obtained an interest after its location. The Costello parties claim that they had a prior location on the ground at the time it was located by Owens. The case was watched in the district court by many of our citizens, as there were several other cases of the same nature to be tried, and which were continued until the next term of the district court.

Barnes & Martin, associated with J. M. O'Connell were the attorneys for the plaintiffs, while Jas. Reilly, of Tombstone, was looking after the defendant Costello's interests.

TALK AROUND TOWN.

Bob, the Opera house advertiser, has been taking an outing the past few days. His business has been exceedingly slack—in fact it looks very much as if Bob were shirking his duties.

Bob was walking up the sidewalk, on one side of the street looking across at his manager, when he ran into an abrupt rise in the sidewalk, and cracked his cranium. Bob at once made a great howl, and declared he would place the question of sidewalks before the city dads.

In speaking of the mining industry in the Dos Cabezas, Henry Laub of Los Angeles, who has for some years interested himself in property in that district, says: "Everything is assuming a condition of activity never before known. There is every reason to believe that the Dos Cabezas will be one of the greatest mining districts of Arizona. We are putting additional force to work daily, and feel satisfied that we will develop one of the paying properties of that vicinity. It is unnecessary to make any extravagant statement regarding the situation there, as the true condition is sufficient. Good, honest work is being done generally, and the district is destined to be one of the best in the territory."

In speaking of the conditions at the different camps, where Mr. Laub has visited, he stated that conditions were generally good. Large forces are being employed.

San Frankenberg returned last night from a six week's trip in the East, combining business and pleasure, and is again shaking hands with friends. He reports having had a busy time, although replete with pleasure.

"I am glad to get back again, and get into the harness," said Mr. Frankenberg. "I have been in New York for the most part; in fact Prince Henry and I did the town together. The Prince showed himself to be a good fellow and was royally received by the people."

"To show how much the Prince appreciated the round of ovations tendered him by the Americans, he rode down Broadway for miles with hat in hand in a heavy rainstorm. One banquet given the Prince, costing $60,000, was perhaps the most magnificent affair that was ever tendered any person by the people of New York. The affair will go down in history as one of splendor and superb magnificence. "The business conditions impressed me particularly, for orders are so extensive that the wholesale houses are overrun and far behind in filling the demands of the retailer. Business could not be better throughout the east than it is today. I desire that you say to me that the result of my trip has been the purchase of our spring furnishings, which is one of the finest and most complete stock ever carried in the southwest."

IN THE JUSTICE COURT.

An interesting although a very common question came up before Judge Brown yesterday which hung the jury. The question of the wall obstruction and the trail was in issue. The defendant Nielsen had constructed a wall between his property and that of the prosecuting witness—the property of the defendant being situated immediately back of the property of the prosecuting witness. The defendant, believing that his rights were being impaired, tore down the wall twice, and was arrested. The jury, after deliberation, disagreed.

Frenaro Grezaro drew a day's pay at the company's store and proceeded to get drunk. A little later he got into jail. He tried to explain that the affair happened on the anniversary of his wedding, but the judge wouldn't stand for it.

"Frenaro, if you were unwise enough to get married," said the judge, "don't blame me. You paid me for the job and I am out of it. You agreed manfully, willfully and obediently to forever take your medicine, and to submit to whatever torture your esteemed spouse deems it necessary to heap upon you. These periodic jags are apt to ruffle the angelic spirits of your ancient bride, and since I took upon myself to assure you protection, I will place you safely within the four walls of the city jail. Remain there until you deem it safe to emerge."

"What did I understand your name to be," said the court.

"Phoebe Louise Jan Henrietta Mary Ann Smith," was the answer.

"Is that all, eh?"

"Yes, sir, that's all!" replied Phoebe cutting in.

"Well, say, Phoebe, do you carry the name for the whole family, with a few of the neighbors thrown in?"

"No, sir, I don't!" and Louise Jane was fiercely short.

"You couldn't spare a few yards of that name and not miss it, could you, Phoebe?"

"No, sir, I couldn't," and Henrietta began to burn the court up.

"You surely didn't have all that name, and a jag at the same time, did you, Phoebe?"

"Buz-z-z!" and Mary Ann began to chew the stove pipe.

"It would hardly do for you to get married, Phoebe; especially if your husband had a long handle to his name," and Miss Smith simply started up the side of the wall.

"Hold on, Phoebe, that performance will cost you seven dollars and a half."

And Phoebe Louise Jan Henrietta Mary Ann Smith dug up.
